

HOME GROUP AT INTERNATIONAL PLAYBACK THEATRE NETWORK CONFERENCE – BANAGLORE, INDIA 5 – 8 DECEMBER 2019

The Power of Women’s Voices – their expression and suppression
With Alison Fairlove and Amanda Brown

We are gathering an international group of women together to explore what we stand up for, what action we are called to take and what stands in our way.

We’re offering a place of belonging for women during the conference where together we can engage in deep conversation, through Playback Theatre, about the issues and themes that concern us all. We will build strong, safe and supportive container in which meaningful stories can flow. We will open a space where both our vulnerability and our power can be witnessed. By being part of this home group, we hope that women will feel stronger and more empowered to express their individual voices with more confidence as they go forward in their lives.

We’re excited to gather women from across the earth to share and celebrate our collective wisdom and therefore enrich and inform our lives.
